

Through Faith Missions (TFM) Prayer Mail – Wednesday 7 March 2018

We have a place (or 2) free on the Dover mission, Mon 19 to Sun 25 March. Please pray for team members.

Richard and the Kenya team are all safely home. You can read a report from Richard via our website here.

Roger writes: that he unveiled plans for the year of mission in Seaford and things are coming together well with many outreach events.

Jim writes: CAP Jobs Club is ticking over nicely, we have now completed 5 weeks and had a visit from a local DUP politician - please pray for more evangelistic opportunities.

Our men's event on Saturday 3 March with ex-international footballer Stuart Elliott was excellent. Around 50 attended and lives were touched by Stuart's story. Off the back of the event we are launching our 'Mens Club' which we plan to run every Friday morning, starting this Friday, 9 March, in the Youth Centre where I'm based. This is in conjunction with Killicomaine Baptist, Killicomaine Evangelical and Pillar Community churches. Please pray for men to come along and for guidance for us as we attempt to share God's love with them.

I am involved in a New Wine Ireland mission during 'Holy Week', Tuesday 27 March to Sunday 1 April with Rev Adam Pullen and his Parish in Stranorlar, Co. Donegal. Please pray for the events. I will be sharing the speaking with New Wine's George Newell.

I'm speaking at the 'Evening Prayer' service in Killicomaine on Sunday 28 March and we are launching our first Alpha Course on Thursday 19 April.

Every blessing
Jim Fleming

Roz writes: Yesterday I had been feeling a little anxious over something when I heard God calling me to read the Bible. Feeling like there was nothing else I could do, I opened my Bible and started reading. It was Psalm 139. Reading this Psalm made me immediately put everything into perspective and it was as if my worries and fears melted away. I realised that I can shut God out but I can't hide from him. I can choose not to speak to him about the situation, but actually there is no point in doing that because, he already knows everything and actually he already knows what the outcome is going to be. This helped me to rethink the attitudes I had at the time and gave me a new perspective to be able to see that I was depending on myself for things to work out and not him.

If God already knows what is going on, he already knows how to help and actually he wants to help. I realised that really all that needed to be done was for me to talk to God and to just tell him how I was feeling and in doing so let him in and ask for his help. We know that God is a gentleman, he won't force us into anything but he is always waiting there patiently wanting to help. All we have to do is give him permission.

Thank you to God for Sunday's service and the lovely church in Peterborough that I visited. It was great to have the opportunity to serve in one church and then to receive in another. Please do keep on praying for the young adults that God wants to join us on mission this summer and for the preparations that are taking place. Thank you, Roz.
